

Puzzle pieces

34,704,026... 34,704,027... 34,704,028... every second a baby is aborted. In Texas, 151 babies have been aborted today. In America, 1,539 babies have been aborted today. Worldwide, 34,704,043... 34,704,044 babies have been aborted today. Lives are being taken away every second. The number just keeps rising. When will it end? Are you just going to sit around and watch? I for one will not! I choose to be prolife, and here's why.

I believe that God has a perfect plan. In Jerimiah 29:11 it says, "For I know the plans I have for you, declares the Lord, plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you a hope and a future." God has a plan for each and every person. Young or old, born or unborn, each one is part of his plan. By allowing abortion or euthanasia we are taking away a very important piece of God's plan. If you've ever put a puzzle together then you know how difficult and time consuming it can be. When you sit down to do the puzzle you don't just start putting in pieces here, there, and everywhere. You study the picture, maybe sort the pieces or do the frame of the puzzle. Whatever you do you create an action plan and you figure out the most logical way to create the desired image. God's plan is just like that. He has designed this perfect plan and each person is a part of it. By aborting babies, pieces of God's perfect plan are removed, and forever missing.

I believe everyone has a God-given purpose here on earth. In Ephesians 2:10 it says "For we are God's handiwork, created in Christ Jesus to do good works, which God prepared in advance for us to do." God has a purpose for each one of us and it's all a part of His perfect plan. Let's go back to the puzzle: each piece has a place to go and is a part of the final picture. Big or small each piece is vital to finish the puzzle. Having done a puzzle before then you know that feeling of satisfaction after having put in the last piece and seeing the finished product. However, you probably have also felt the feeling of frustration when there's a missing piece and all you can think about is that hole in the middle of the picture. That's what happens when a baby is aborted, a piece is missing from the puzzle of God's perfect plan. Each person has a purpose, designed by God and deserves a chance to live that out. However God sees fit.

In conclusion, I am prolife not only because God has a plan and a purpose for every person even from the womb. But because he loves every person including the feeble and the unborn. Each of us has a special place in his heart. Each and every life matters to God, and everyone is a piece of his puzzle.